Our highly qualified teachers care deeply about early childhood education; they see the unlimited potential in each child and recognize the opportunity and responsibility we have to help lay a strong foundation for each child's future success. Teachers understand that every moment matters: their interactions are respectful, responsive and validating of children's feelings. Teachers emphasize the process of exploration and discovery and provide numerous rich, open-ended experiences each day including dramatic play, music and movement, reading, process oriented art and time outside.
